DAVID SHANHUN

SIMON SNAIZE Singer/songwriters

David Shanahun is an Auckland-based professional musician who first picked up a guitar at the tender age of 14. From there his interest in the guitar grew and grew, and he studied classical guitar before going on to discover folk/country music – the likes of Chet Atkins, Jerry Reed and Tommy Emmanuel. David has been a finalist in the 2010 Singer Songwriter Syndicate's 'Singer/Songwriter' competition, performed with Grammy Award winning artist Bryan White, and was a 2011 National Country Music Awards finalist.

With five albums to his name, Simon Snaize is a UK-based songwriter, performer and producer who has toured in the UK, the US and New Zealand with Don McGlashan, Fish, Glen Hansard and Chris Helme).

This should be a good evening!

SANDERS ALLEY KHAN

Beautifully mad acoustic music

A folk, roots and world music band formed in 2010, Sanders Alley Khan play beautifully mad acoustic music. A live-wire trio that blends a fine array of musical styles and instruments with superb three-way vocal harmonies, they perform both original material and tunes and songs paying homage to their wide variety of influences.

Sanders Alley Khan are Jon Sanders (tenor ukulele, bouzouki and guitar), Dave Alley (guitar, slide guitar) and Dave Khan (mandolin, guitar, violin and banjo). Jon's Celtic and jazz influences, Dave Alley's bluesy roots and Dave Khan's American folk and blues all blend and deliver great energy, sublime musicianship and a few laughs.

These three heavyweights of the New Zealand acoustic music scene, each exceptional solo performers in their own right, were the highlight of the 2011 Auckland Festival, their energy, enthusiasm and musicianship bringing the Sunday night audience to its feet.

Friday 13th April 7:30PM
$15 (members) · $20 (non-members)
